INTERESTING STORY OF A WELL-KNOWN OLD TIMER

Recently R. B. Price, of Columbia, president emeritus of the Boone County National Bank, celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday, nearly the Biblical four score years and ten. As has been the custom for several years the day was observed with a dinner for the employees of the bank at the Daniel Boone Tavern.

Although most men think it their privilege and right to retire at a much younger age than 89, Mr. Price is at the bank every day during the working hours, as he has been for the last sixty-five years. In fact he is Price, Jr. Once, when asked why he often there before his grandson, R. B. Price, Jr. Once, when asked why he didn't retire, he replied that he was afraid to for if he were to start loafing, he would be such a nuisance to Mrs. Price that she would apply for a divorce and that he would be the best witness she could summon. Besides his six hours a day, at the bank, Mr. Price finds time to work in his garden, which has all the lovely old-fashioned flowers, and the practical everyday vegetables.

When asked how he kept so young (he does not look a day over sixty) he replied that most persons simply bought their life tickets to four score years and ten, but he had bought a return ticket, and was now going back to his youth. He is more than six feet tall and as erect as a man of 25. His mind is keen; he uses glasses only when he reads; and in speaking to him, one need not raise his voice, only take the trouble to speak distinctly.

Mr. Price was here before Christian and Stephens college were originated, and he made sketches of them while they were being built. He has made sketches of nearly everything in the Hinkson valley. His children used these old sketches to make paper houses. Only a few of them escaped. A copy of one of these, which shows Eighth street from Broadway looking north, is in the Farmers' room of the Boone County National bank building.

Mr. Price was born in 1832 in Charlotte County, Virginia. His father, practicing physician, felt the call of the west, and in 1838 the family moved to Missouri. They came through the Cumberland Gap over the Blue Ridge mountains through Columbia to Fayette, which at that time was one of the leading cities of Missouri and practically the end of the Boone's Lick Trail. When they came through Columbia, this was the caravan that startled the natives according to Mr. Price. First came Mr. Price's father, a man weighing nearly three hundred pounds, on horseback; then came Mrs. Price and the four children in a spring wagon; then six covered wagons containing the household furniture; then thirty negroes, who were singing; two pure-bred race horses that were neighing; two full blooded fox hounds that were barking; and finally some game chickens that were crowing.

The destination of the caravan was Brunswick in Chariton County, Missouri. But the family remained a year in Fayette, until the place at Brunswick could be improved, a band of Sac Indians, on a hunting expedition, camped in sight of the house. "To this day," said Mr. Price, "I recall my efforts to learn to shoot the bow and arrow as I played with the Indians."

In 1850, Mr. Price was sent to Columbia to attend the university, and figuratively speaking, he has lived under its shadow ever since. At that time there were only 120 students in the University and a large part of those were preparatory students. The faculty had eight members. Mr. Price said that at commencement time, the students used to gather at the old courthouse, whose columns are still standing and march to the old administration building. There was an old man, Mr. Persinger, near Columbia who played the fiddle, and another, Tom Powell, who played the clarinet. This fiddle and clarinet led the very solemn procession, and then came the president of the University.

undesignated Administrator of said estate by the Probate Court of Chariton County, Missouri, said letters being dated September 24, 1921.

All persons having claims against said estate are required to exhibit the same to me for allowance within six months from the date of said letters, or they may be precluded from any of the benefits of said estate, but if such claims are not exhibited within twelve months from said date they will be forever barred.

then the other seven members of the faculty and finally the 120 students.

Mr. Price is the oldest living member of the Athenaeum society. At the time he belonged, the University did not have any lights, so they had to meet in the courthouse. He said that on one occasion when he made a speech, everybody cheered and the women waved handkerchiefs. He said he knew it was a good speech too, for he had memorized it word for word from one of Patrick Henry's.

Mr. Price's first employment after he finished college was as draftsman and assistant geologist with Prof. G. C. Swallow. Mr. Price is the only member of that corps now living. A few days ago he received a letter from Robert M. Snyder, of Kansas City who owns Ha Ha Tonka, in which he says that he has two copies of the book "Geological Report of Missouri" by G. C. Swallow and corps, and which contains drawings of the country around Ha Ha Tonka made by Mr. Price. He also said that he is going to give them to the State Historical Society and asked that Mr. Price autograph them. Mr. Price wrote on the page above one of his sketches, "Fifty-eight years ago I made this drawing and recall the occasion distinctly. With very much pleasure, I attach my signature on this October 12, 1921."

Mr. and Mrs. Price have lived at their home at 110 Price Avenue, for 62 years and have never moved. This is Mr. Price's first and only home in Columbia. Mrs. Price, who was Miss Evaline Hockaday of Callaway County, says she has known only two homes, the old family place owned by her father and the present home in Columbia.—Missouri Missourian.

DRY LAW WILL NOT PREVENT MANUFACTURE OF BEER

Under the state bone drw law there is no provision against the manufacture of beer under the ruling of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon which was made public Tuesday.

A section of the state dry law provides that the measure shall not be construed as to conflict with the rulings of the Treasury Department of the national prohibition act.

As a result of this provision there is nothing to prevent Missouri breweries from manufacturing beer as soon as they can secure permits from the Federal government.

Ernest Moerschel of the Capital City Brewery Co. said Tuesday his company had made application for a manufacturer's license in order to supply the drug trade with beer necessary to fill prescriptions.

It is not expected that permits will be issued for some days to come since some time will be required to get the necessary official blanks in the hands of the various state prohibition directors. It is also expected that physicians will be required to secure special beer prescriptions before they can furnish them to patients.

The ruling also permits physicians to prescribe not more than two quarts of wine to a person at one time. It is expected that a special prescription blank will be required for this.

PROVISIONS OF BONUS BILL FOR NEXT THURSDAY NOTED

The Soldier Bonus bill which will be introduced at the second special session of the General Assembly to be convened here Thursday of next week has been printed and is being distributed to the members of the legislature in order that they may study its provisions before their arrival at Jefferson City for purpose of securing speedy action. The only other legislation that will be considered will pertain to the issuance of road bonds.

A summary of the provisions of the bill follow:

Soldiers, including any person who served honorably in the military or naval forces of the United States between April 5, 1917, and November 11, 1918, and who were bonafide residents of Missouri at least twelve months prior to April 6, 1917, are entitled to the bonus, receiving $10 for each month in the service but no soldier can receive more than $250.

The bonus is not subject to the claims of creditors of the receiver, nor shall it be capable of assignment, nor regarded as a part of the assets of the estate of the deceased person. The only allowable assignment is to the American Legion of the state for the purpose of creating a fund for the erection and maintenance of a home for needy soldiers of the World War.

In case of death of any person entitled to the bonus, it is to be paid to the soldier's child or children, mother or father, in the order named. Should all these persons die before the payment of the bonus the right to such ceases.

The bonus fund is to be administered by the Soldier Bonus Commission, "composed of the Adjutant General and two other members appointed by the governor. Each member of the commission is to receive $11 a day for his services. The commission has the right to determine the persons entitled to the bonus. If the Commission disallows any claim, the applicant may have his application reconsidered by the Board of Review, consisting of the Governor, the Attorney General and Secretary of State, which shall take final action on the application.

Applications for the bonus must be filed with the Bonus Commission on or before December 31, 1922. No applications will be permitted to be made to the Commission, until the funds for the payment of the bonuses are available.

Any person making false statements with regard to the bonus claims, is subject to a fine of not more than $50 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

The Board of Fund Commissioners, consisting of the Governor, Attorney General, State Auditor and State Treasurer, is empowered to authorize the issuance of $15,000,000 worth of bonds, to be known as the State of Missouri World War Soldier Bonus Bonds. The bonds shall bear not more than 5 per cent interest, payable semi-annually.

The soldier bonus bonds shall mature in such amounts and at such times as may be determined by the Board of Fund Commissioners. None of the bonds shall run for more than 20 years from the date of issuance of the first bonds. The bonus bonds shall be paid by the levy and collection of a direct annual tax upon all taxable property in the state.

In concluding, the act states that "the fact that many of the beneficiaries of this act are not employed and in direct need of the partial compensation sought to be provided for them in this act becomes effective as soon as approved and signed by the Governor."

$15,000,000 WILL BE ASKED AT SPECIAL SESSION FOR ROADS

Governor Hyde Monday announced that the special session of the General Assembly to enact soldiers' bonus legislation will be called to meet at Jefferson, November 3.

To alleviate unemployment among former service men and the general widespread involuntary idleness Gov. Hyde included in his call recommendations that provisions be made for the sale of $10,000,000 of the $60,000,000 state road work next March so that the road work may get under way in the following month. The Governor decided not to have a conference between Legion representatives and the Ways and Means Committee of the House and Senate.

The session is called for the purpose of providing legislation to handle the $15,000,000 bond issue voted to pay a bonus to Missouri soldiers, but that road measures will be presented at this time.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Sunday evening about 11:30 whi W. P. Marion and a party of relatives were driving to Keytesville a car coming from the opposite direction r into Mr. Marion's car just this side of the overhead bridge in Salisbury. His car was very badly damaged. The front axle was bent and also the radius rods. None of the occupant were hurt more than a severe shaking up. Mr. Marion has no idea who the party was that ran into his as they did not stop to see what damage they had done, but stepped on the gas and drove away.—Prairie Hill Rustler.

CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS HAVE DONE HER A WORLD OF GOOD

"Chamberlain's Tablets have done me a world of good," writes Mrs. E. L. Button, Kirksville, N. Y. "I have recommended them to a number of my friends and all who have used them praise them highly." "When troubled with indigestion or constipation, give them a trial and realize for yourself what an excellent medicine it is."

Floyd Freemyer was in town Saturday and left his order for salt pills. He will have a big ad in the Courier next week. His offering will be 40 head of registered Big Top Poland China hogs—some of the best in the county. Watch for his ad next week.

It would not be out of place to reduce the price of soda water and other similar drinks. Nothing has contributed more to the health and happiness of the American people than the prevalence of soda fountains. It provides "something" to drink besides water. A good five-cent drink, without alcohol, is a life saver for any nation.
